LITERATURE

'NOT ONLY DOES THE BESPATTERED AND ENCRUSTED SURFACE OF DAME TAKE ON A POSITIVE RICHNESS, AS OF MEDIEVAL JEWELLERY OR STAINED GLASS, BUT FORMAL ANALOGIES APPEAR... THE FROTH OF NEW BUDS OR LEAVES SEEM TO CRYSTALLISE OUT OF THE SWIFT, RAGGED CALLIGRAPHY; THERE, FLAT BLUNT CHINKS OF FORM RESOLVE THEMSELVES INTO SOMEWHAT HERALDIC EMBLEMS OF THE HUMAN FIGURE'

PATRICK HERON WRITING ABOUT ALAN DAME (1956)
